ABOUT THE AWRA

Purpose — the AWRA was established to foster interdisciplinary communication among persons of diverse backgrounds working on any aspect of water resources. This Conference carries on that mission with presentations on diverse and wide-ranging areas of interest to those involved with funding, state experiences, local perspectives, and technology and practices. Join us for challenging and exciting presentations and discussion on the issues.

This conference focuses on Stormwater Phase II regulations, discussing and comparing how professionals in the four AWRA Sections are implementing the new regulations in a wide variety of geographical settings and for different administrative and management systems..
